Why this tool matters

Shifting from treating citizens as passive receivers of information to recognizing them as vital partners whose local knowledge is the lifeblood of sustainable urban transformation.

Evidence we produce

A structured document detailing stakeholder segments, their level of influence and interest, tailored communication tactics, and an operational grievance redress mechanism.

Duration & Material

Duration · 2 to 3 weeks for mapping and planning

Material · Influence/interest matrix, demographic data, communication strategy templates

Reference case

The World Bank's Environmental and Social Framework (ESF) strictly requires a Stakeholder Engagement Plan (SEP) proportionate to project risks. By ensuring continuous, meaningful consultation and a robust grievance mechanism, public authorities can prevent disputes, improve project design, and build constructive relationships with affected communities over the entire project lifecycle.

Suggested agenda · Brief (10 min) › Method walk-through (15 min) › Animation canvas (60-90 min) › Harvest (20 min)

Stakeholder × engagement level × cadence × channel

Duration
2 to 3 weeks for mapping and planning

Stakeholder	Level	Cadence	Channel	Owner	Notes

Harvesting our learnings

After running the canvas, capture three layers of insight.

What inspires me

Stand-out signals, surprising stories, ideas to remember

How to apply it here

Concrete adaptations to our context, our team, our constraints

What we need to be autonomous

Skills, allies, resources, decisions still to secure
