Why this tool matters

Breaking the opacity of technocratic power, ensuring that the air we breathe and the land we inhabit remain fiercely protected subjects of open, democratic scrutiny.

Evidence we produce

A public participation dossier demonstrating strict adherence to the three pillars: access to environmental information, public participation in decision-making, and access to justice.

Duration & Material

Duration · Continuous throughout the planning phase

Material · Aarhus Convention guidelines, public consultation portals, legal compliance checklists

Reference case

In large-scale infrastructure projects across the EU (such as those requiring Environmental Impact Assessments), compliance with the Aarhus Convention is mandatory. Member States strictly use the Convention's framework to structure public hearings and consultation periods, ensuring that environmental NGOs and affected citizens have a legally binding voice in evaluating potential environmental hazards before building permits are granted,.

Suggested agenda · Brief (10 min) > Method walk-through (15 min) > Animation canvas (60-90 min) > Harvest (20 min)

Three pillars · information · participation · justice

Duration

Continuous throughout the planning phase

Access to information environmental data publicly available

Public participation in environmental decisions

Access to justice

remedy when rights breached

Harvesting our learnings

After running the canvas, capture three layers of insight.

What inspires me

Stand-out signals, surprising stories, ideas to remember

How to apply it here

Concrete adaptations to our context, our team, our constraints

What we need to be autonomous

Skills, allies, resources, decisions still to secure
