Why this tool matters

Facing the terrifying reality of climate collapse with pragmatic courage, ensuring the city is designed not just to grow and profit, but to protect and survive.

Evidence we produce

A Disaster Resilience Scorecard mapping local exposure to hazards, integrated directly into the city master plan and aligned with national risk reduction strategies.

Duration & Material

Duration · 2 to 3 months

Material · Disaster Resilience Scorecard for Cities, spatial hazard maps, national DRR frameworks

Reference case

The Sendai Monitor framework requires cities to conduct voluntary self-assessments of their progress in implementing disaster risk reduction (DRR). By using standardized scorecards, local authorities ensure that their master plans explicitly incorporate resilience approaches, effectively mitigating the dangers of rapid, unplanned urban expansion that exposes populations to severe climate events,.,.,.

Suggested agenda · Brief (10 min) > Method walk-through (15 min) > Animation canvas (60-90 min) > Harvest (20 min)

Disaster Resilience · 10 essentials

Duration
2 to 3 months

Organize for resilience leadership · structures	Identify, understand and use risk science assess hazards	Strengthen financial capabilities budgeted resilience	Pursue resilient urban development safe land use	Safeguard ecosystems natural buffers
Strengthen institutional capacity people & training	Understand and strengthen societal resilience community resilience	Increase infrastructure resilience critical systems	Enable rapid action rapid action	Facilitate recovery and build back better long-term

Harvesting our learnings

After running the canvas, capture three layers of insight.

What inspires me

Stand-out signals, surprising stories, ideas to remember

How to apply it here

Concrete adaptations to our context, our team, our constraints

What we need to be autonomous

Skills, allies, resources, decisions still to secure
