Why this tool matters

Amplifying the voices of the silent and ensuring that the city is built for all its inhabitants, dismantling the physical and administrative barriers that exclude the most vulnerable.

Evidence we produce

Specific design adjustments and functional requirements that eliminate barriers for vulnerable populations, formulated directly by those populations.

Duration & Material

Duration · 1 half-day tailored session per target group

Material · Highly adapted facilitation tools (audio dramas, tactile models, specialized interpreters)

Reference case

The "Future frequency" framework developed by the Finnish Innovation Fund (SITRA). To create an inclusive co-design environment, participants are brought into the future through different audio dramas (e.g., exploring future democracy or climate impacts), and are then asked to collaboratively discuss how this impacts present-day urban planning. Similarly, the "Ulisse" project demonstrated this by co-designing a digital platform for cultural activities exclusively with, and...

Suggested agenda · Brief (10 min) > Method walk-through (15 min) > Animation canvas (60-90 min) > Harvest (20 min)

Inclusive co-design · adapted to who is in the room

After running the canvas, capture three layers of insight.

What inspires me

Stand-out signals, surprising stories, ideas to remember

How to apply it here

Concrete adaptations to our context, our team, our constraints

What we need to be autonomous

Skills, allies, resources, decisions still to secure
